RE: Himco Landfill

Dear Ms. Swales:

In reference to the letter received and our telephone conversation November 16, the following is submitted.

As you stated on the telephone, the EPA's main concern was pre - 1976. Since JASON Industries started in 1972, our company was still a very small operation, building only aluminum and wood framed truck campers/caps. SIC Code 3792. Prior to late 1981, early 1982, JASON had no operations generating hazardous waste of any kind. Our land-fillable garbage consisted of scrap paper, floor sweeping, etc. No chemicals were used in the manufacturing process, which was basically of an assembly basis. Aluminum tube was purchased, sawed, bent, welded and screwed together. Sheet aluminum and pre-fabricated windows made up the remainder of the product. Scrap aluminum was picked up by a metals broker.

Himco picked up the land-fillable garbage on a limited basis. We simply didn't generate much waste.

Since the inception of our Fiberglass Molding Department (1982), we have grown from basically a research and development department to our present capacity. As hazardous wastes were generated, and with education about such matters, we enlisted the help of a certified hazardous waste disposal company.

1. JASON Industries Fiberglass Department - SIC 3792.

- A. Basically open cavity molding using fiberglass and polyester resins. Spray up, chop and gel coating procedures.
- B. Waste generated are acetone still bottoms F003, (actually liquid from reclaimed solvents.)
- C. EPA ID IND982073876 - All hazardous waste is picked up and disposed through a fuel blending system, currently Chem Care, Indianapolis, IN. and EWR, Illinois one broker and TSD respectively.

I hope this information is adequate and helpful. If not, feel free to contact me.

Sincerely,

John Bline
